

Organic palm fat in block form

Palm fat, deodorised and formed into a block. Palm fat is a fruit flesh fat that is obtained from the flesh of the oil palm. Raw palm fat has an orange-red colour due to its beta-carotene content. This colouring is removed during deodorisation, giving the fat its white colour. It is suitable for the production of margarine, spreads and baked goods. This palm fat is RSPO-certified. The RSPO, also known as the Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil, has developed environmental and social criteria for the sustainable production of palm oil.
