

Organic Blossom Honey from Europe

This is amber-coloured liquid organic blossom honey from Europe. Honey is a natural product. It is normal for honey to crystallise over time, which does not affect its quality. We guarantee that the product will remain liquid for two months from the production date, provided it is stored above 14°C. If the honey solidifies, it can be liquefied again in a heat chamber at approximately 60°C or in a water bath. The colour may also vary depending on the origin and composition.
