

Coriander whole organic

Designation: coriander whole

Description: Our whole, dried organic coriander seeds are characterized by their distinctive yellow-brownish color and spherical shape. Their unique sweet, slightly citrusy flavor makes them an indispensable ingredient in Indian, Arabic and Asian cuisine. They are often combined with other spices such as nutmeg, fennel, pepper, chili, cloves, ginger and cumin to create a complex and multi-layered aroma. However, they are not only used in savory dishes, but also in baked goods such as sourdough breads and Christmas cookies. For those who prefer a finer texture, we also offer ground coriander in our store.

Preparation: Organic coriander seeds are a versatile spice used in many cuisines around the world. They add a unique, warm, sweet and slightly citrusy flavour to many dishes including Indian curries, Moroccan specialities and European stews and pastries.
