

Pitted Deglet Nour dates organic 1kg

Pitted and dried organic Deglet Nour dates. The 'fingers of light', as these sweet fruits are called in translation, are medium to light brown and between 3 and 5 cm long. They are soft to medium-firm in texture, have a pleasantly sweet and fruity taste, and are a good source of fibre. This makes dates a natural, delicious treat and a popular ingredient in baking and cooking. They are ideal wherever natural sweetness is desired: fruit bread, cakes, pastry fillings, muesli bars, energy balls and finely chopped as a sweet topping on muesli, porridge or salad. Deglet Nour dates also refine curries and tomato dishes with their delicate sweetness. Try them yourself. Our dates are mainly grown in Tunisia and Algeria. Practical too: dried dates finely ground for easy sweetening of many creations. You can find our organic Medjool dates here.
